Course Description
In this sequel to SOC100H: Introduction to Sociology, SOC150H continues to explore a series of themes central to the discipline of sociology, but does so in more depth. This starts with an examination of the nature, role, and relationship between sociological theory and sociological research. We will look at how sociologists go about doing the work of describing, understanding, and changing the social world in which we live. We will do so by narrowing our focus on fewer concepts, phenomenon, and issues than in SOC100H to allow for a greater engagement and deeper understanding of topics such as stress, culture, housing, race, gender, social control, and social change. These topics will be brought to life through exposure to ground-breaking pieces of work by contemporary sociologists active in the field today.

PREREQUISITE: SOC100H1. Students without this prerequisite will be removed at any time discovered and without notice.

Course Goals
After completing this course, students should be able to:
- Read and understand an academic sociological article
- Critically evaluate the use of research designs to answer sociological questions
- Comprehensively engage with scholarly writings

Course Policies

Attendance and Preparation

Attendance is mandatory. Students are responsible for all material presented in class. Students who are unable to attend class on a given day are responsible for obtaining notes on all material covered, including lecture material and course announcements. In addition, students are expected to complete all assigned readings in advance of the class period for which they are assigned. Tutorial attendance is also required and will be conducted regularly from 8:10 pm – 9:00 pm on the scheduled dates above.
Course Website
The course website on Quercus is available at https://q.utoronto.ca/. The site will contain the course syllabus, all handouts, links of interest and course announcements. Students are responsible for the content of all course materials.

Email
When contacting your professor or TAs, use your utoronto.ca address only. Please also include “SOC150” and a brief description in the subject line, so your email can be easily prioritized. Emails will typically be answered within 72 hours, during the workweek (i.e. Monday through Friday, between 9am-6pm). Keep in mind that for simple questions, email is the preferred method of communication. However, for longer questions, students should attend office hours with the appropriate TA or the professor.

Office Hours
James Lannigan has drop-in office hours on Mondays and Wednesdays from 5 pm-6 pm online via Zoom or by appointment.

Late Assignments
Unless otherwise specified, all assignments must be submitted on Quercus before the beginning of class (i.e. by 6:10pm) on the due date provided. Since the reading comprehension quizzes are 10% each and we will discuss the contents of that reading during the lecture, late submissions will not be accepted and grades will not be reweighed to earlier or later assignments.

Requests for Extensions
Students are responsible for submitting term work in accordance with the timeline outlined on the course schedule. Requests for extensions will not be considered within 72 hours of an assignment deadline, with the exception of students experiencing serious illness and/or unforeseen circumstances (such as a death in the family). In these cases, students are expected to contact the professor at the earliest available opportunity, so that accommodations can be arranged. It is additionally advised that students take the proactive step of contacting their college Registrar.

Missed Test
Students who miss the test, or are late in submitting an assignment for medical reasons, need to email the instructor (not the TA), and also declare their absence on the system (ACORN).
(NOTE: Because of Covid-19, students do NOT need to submit the usual documentation, i.e., medical notes or the Verification of Illness forms).

Students who miss the test, or are late in submitting an assignment for other reasons, such as family or other personal reasons, should request their College Registrar to email the instructor.
Re-Grading Assignments
All requests for re-grading course assignments should be made to your TA within one week of the date when the assignments are returned to the class. A short memo that clearly states specific reasons to justify the request and backs up these reasons with evidence from your assignment must be submitted to your TA no earlier than 24 hours after your grade has been returned. No re-grading requests will be considered if they are submitted more than one week after the assignments are returned to the class. This deadline applies to all students including those who missed the class when the assignments were returned.

Ouriginal
Sometimes, students will be required to submit their assignments to the University’s plagiarism detection tool for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the tool’s reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University’s use of this tool are described on the Centre for Teaching Support & Innovation web site (https://uoft.me/pdt-faq).

For some of your assignments, we will be using the software Ouriginal. It uses text matching technology as a method to uphold the University’s high academic integrity standards to detect any potential plagiarism. Ouriginal is integrated into Quercus. For the assignments set up to use Ouriginal, the software will review your paper when you upload it to Quercus. To learn more about Ouriginal’s privacy policy please review its Privacy Policy.

Writing Centres
All students are encouraged to visit and make use of the available writing centres. Writing tutors may help you brainstorm ideas, develop a thesis, structure and organize your paper, present your evidence effectively, argue logically, cite appropriately and express yourself clearly and concisely. However, proofreading and copyediting for spelling, grammar, or format are not within the primary scope of the writing centres. Please visit http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/writing-centres/arts-and-science

Accessibility
The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations or have any accessibility concerns, please visit http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/accessibility as soon as possible. If you are registered with Accessibility Services, please forward your accommodations paperwork to the professor within the first two weeks of the course so that arrangements can be made. Accommodations must be requested and arranged for each course assignment/test/exam for which they are sought. Accommodations will not be implemented retroactively.
Academic Integrity/Academic Misconduct

The University of Toronto treats academic integrity and academic misconduct very seriously. To participate honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in the academic community at U of T, you should familiarize yourself with the University of Toronto’s Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters (http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/Assets/Governing+Council+Digital+Assets/Policies/PDF/ppjun011995.pdf).

In addition, students should acquaint themselves with the rules concerning plagiarism and other forms of academic misconduct, including but not limited to:

- Using someone else’s ideas or words without appropriate acknowledgement.
- Copying material word-for-word from a source without quotation marks.
- Including references to sources that you did not use.
- Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on any assignment including (e.g.) working in groups on assignments that are supposed to be individual work
- Lending your work to a classmate who submits it as his/her own.
- Letting someone else look at your answers on a test.
- Falsifying or altering any documentation required by the University.
